

Internal and Governmental Investigations

Our attorneys have extensive experience in conducting internal investigations for corporate clients on matters involving corporate governance, securities fraud, government contracting, procurement, use of proprietary information, employee misconduct, antitrust, and other areas. From time to time, we have partnered with our clients' internal and external auditors in performing this work. We have also assisted our clients in preparing and coordinating disclosures to governmental entities arising from internal investigations and in responding to regulatory and other investigations by federal and state governmental agencies.
